

SCOTTISH HELLENIC SOCIETY GLASGOW

SESSION 2009-2010

Welcome to the new session of the Scottish Hellenic Society. I hope you will enjoy the talks the Committee has arranged for this session and that you will be able to attend regularly. We will again be holding our meetings in "G12 at Gilmorehill, 9 University Avenue" with the exception of the meeting on 8 February (see below).

As you will be aware, the Committee has been considering a change to the day of our meetings and has agreed that the Society will now meet on a Tuesday at 7pm. However, the first meeting is an exception to this as it will be the joint meeting with the Classical Association and will be held on Monday 12 October. As usual, this meeting will commence at 7pm with wine and mezedhes.

The subscriptions for session 2009-2010 have been held at £10.00 (full member) and £5.00 (student member) but we ask that you consider the subscription as a minimum contribution; any donation in excess will be gratefully received - and acknowledged.

The lecture programme is set out overleaf. Please note that there is an additional meeting this year on Monday 8 February 2010. This is the inaugural 'John Karkalas Lecture' and it will be held in the Wolfson Medical School Building, University Avenue. The January meeting will again take the form of a social event - a vasilopitta evening where we will meet in the Konaki Greek Taverna, cut the New Year cake and enjoy a meal together (details of cost to follow).

I look forward to seeing you in the coming session.
