Chromatic Fonts Month

July 2007

The heading of this poster is produced using two fonts using two layers in a desktop publishing package. If chromatic font technology were available the text could just be keyed and the two-colour effect would be produced. Implementing chromatic font technology needs at least the following items.

- A chromatic font format specification

- A chromatic font made to that format

- A package which can use a chromatic font