

It is an autumn day in England. The weather is mild and it is somewhat sunny. The leaves are not yet starting to fall from the trees. Soon the leaves will turn yellow, orange and red in many shades and they will fall onto the ground of the forest. The colourful carpet of leaves will decorate the floor of the forest.